Riverside, San Bernardino County, Cal.

THE GLEN VOOD is universally recognized as one of the best and most attractive hotels in the State. It occupies an entire block of two and one-half acres, centrally located, with pleasant surroundings in the way of fruit and ornamental trees, flowers and shrubbery. Around the building, on both floors, are broad balconies, forming fine promenades, aggregating a quarter of a mile in length, part of which are encased with glass and trellised with vines. The sunlight reaches every room, and they are alleasy of access from broad halls and balcony. Batha and closets, electric bells, and all the modern improvements to be found in a first-class hotel. Open grates and stoves afford opportunity for fires when desired. Parlors, reading room, office and dining room all on first floor, spacious, sunny and convenient.

Bearing his load on the rough road of life? it worth while that we seer at each other, In blackness of heart that we way to the knife! God pity us all in our pitiful strife. God pity us all, as we jostle each other, God pardon us all for the triumphs we feel When a fellow goes down 'neath his load on the ced to the heart; words are keener than And mightier far for wee than for weal, re it not well, in this brief little journey, on over the isthmus, down into the tide, give him a fish, instead of a serpent, re folding the hands to be and abide overver and ay in dust at his side? Look at the roses saluting each other; Look at the herds all at peace on the plain, Man, and man only, makes war on his brother, And laughs in his heart at his peril and psin; Shamed by the beasts that go down on the misin.

e said to a reporter of the Cincinnati

Enquirer: That man Coffey is the smartest man on the Pacific Coast. He knows every gambler in 'Frisco, and from many of them, who were desirous of remaining on the good side of him, got pointers concerning the plans of Hank's friends to secure his release. * * Soon after we left San Francisco I received warning that trouble was brewing at Chevme, in Laramie county, Wyoming critory. In order to learn exactly Territory. In order to learn exactly where I stood, we stopped over in Ogden one day. There I learned that a gambler named West was to meet me with a companion and go on the same train to Cheyenne to go on the same train to Cheyenne to take the leadership of matters there. I easily recognized him by marks made on his clothing by Coffey. Noticing him in close conversation with the town marshal, I became suspicious, and, going to the jail, got Houk and took him to my room in the hotel, where, with two good men furnished use by the value.

two good men furnished me by the railroad detective, I remained all night.
The next was to rid myself of West. I had been given free use of the telegraph wires by the company. At Ogden there is a branch road that runs down to Salt is a branch road that runs down to Salt Lake City. West's companion had gone down to Salt Lake. I sought the telegraph office and had written out a dispatch purporting to come from the man IN THE MORMON CITY, his name. Then I sent him a telegram signed West, in which I told him to meet me on the way, as Norris and detectives, with prisoner dling West to come at once, signing tectives, with prisoner, were on board the train for Salt Lake. There is only one train a day each way; They pass some miles out from Ogden. Ere they discovered the trick, both of these men ere bound for Salt Lake, cursing their Hams:

Impartial Pensions.

From the Washington Star.]

The Tennessee Legislature, after having deliberately repudiated a portion of the State debt on the pitiful plea af inability to pay, has passed an act granting a pension of ten dollars a month to all soldiers of the rebellion from that State (including those who served in both Union and Confederate armies) who lost one or both eyes in service. If the State Confederate armies) who lost one or both eyes in service. If the State were out of debt, or even met its just obligations as they fell due, nobody outside of the taxpayers within its borders would have any right to criticuse its new pension law; but as the case stands the general judgment will be that the State has robbed her creditors in order to pension her soldiers.

SALICYLICA is known as a commonstrikes directly at the cause of Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia, while so many so-called specifics and supposed panaceas only treat
locally the effects.

It has been conceded by eminent scientists that outward applications, such as rubbing
with oils, ointments, liniments and southing lotions will not eradicate these diseases, which are the result of the poisoning of the blood
with Uric Acid.

SALICYLICA works with marvelous efremoves the discrete. It is now exclusively used by all celebrated physicians of America and Europe. Highest Medical Academy of
